The Fund for Social Change enables donors to use their funds to maximum advantage. We are able to represent donors who seek to be identified with the organizations or projects they support or who seek to remain anonymous. The primary criterion for participation is that the donor or agency seeks to promote social justice and progressive change.

The Fund for Social Change is a public charity that can:

- Administer donor advised funds
- Receive tax deductible donations and distribute grants
- Advise donors
- Identify effective and strategically important grantees

The staff of The Fund has decades of experience launching, expanding and improving social service agencies as well as changing social services systems in New York, the United States and internationally. This work has been done in the United States with individual donors, individual foundations and donors' collaboratives. Internationally the work has been done with UNICEF, the World Bank, the Government of Sweden, and governments throughout Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union, including Romania, Lithuania, Armenia, Moldova and Tajikistan.

To discuss the possibility of creating a donor advised fund at the Fund for Social Change, please contact:
